FOREWORD

The Society of Independent Brewers was founded in 1980 under the title The Small Independent Brewer Association (“SIBA”) to represent the interests of the growing number of independent brewing companies in the UK.

It changed its name in 1995 to reflect better the changing aspirations of its members, but retained its original acronym. In order to pursue its permanent commercial interests, SIBA established a wholly owned subsidiary, SIBA Commercial Services Ltd (formerly SIBA (DDS) Ltd), in 2006.

Beer and ale have been traditional and wholesome beverages for thousands of years, and many styles are indigenous and unique to the British Isles. SIBA members seek to preserve these traditional styles and their traditional methods of manufacture, while at the same time demonstrating the skill of their craft through creativity, invention and innovation.

SIBA aims to ensure that its members' beers are of consistent high quality and is committed to the highest standards of production. The Food Safety & Quality Standard incorporates operational guidelines, acceptance of which is a fundamental tenet of membership.

Membership is conditional upon agreement to abide by the associations Constitution, Rules Members' Charter and business and brewing codes of best practice, as contained in this handbook.

PART ONE: ANTI BRIBERY POLICY

1 Policy Statement

- 1.1 SIBA is committed to carrying out its business and operations in a fair, honest and ethical manner. This means SIBA takes a zero tolerance approach towards bribery and corruption and expects that its Members do likewise. SIBA is committed to acting professionally and fairly in all of its business dealings and relationships wherever we operate. We will never permit or authorise the offering, making or receiving of a bribe.
- 1.2 There are no exceptions to this policy.
- 1.3 This document sets out our general policy in relation to bribery which all Members need to be aware of and must comply with a condition of Membership to SIBA, including continued Membership.

2 Our commitment starts at the top

- 2.1 The Board and the Elected Directors are committed to this Policy. The Board will regularly review this policy and its implementation.

3 Who does this policy apply to?

- 3.1 This policy applies to all Members. Members are responsible for ensuring that all of their respective compliance directors, managers, employees (whether permanent or on fixed term contracts, full time or part-time), shareholders, partners, members as well as anyone who is not an employee (such as consultants, sub-contractors, agents, representatives) are made aware of this Policy and procure compliance with this Policy.

4. Consequences of breaches of the policy for our Members

- 4.1 Bribery is a crime. If during the course of the operation of a Members' business (whether in connection with any transactions with any Member or SIBA Commercial or otherwise) a Member offers, makes or receives a bribe that Member will be breaking the law.
- 4.2 Bribery carries a sentence of up to 10 years in jail for individuals and any organisations could be subject to an unlimited fine be excluded from tendering from public contracts. This could apply to any Members and SIBA itself. If SIBA is found to have taken part in corruption it could also face damage to its reputation. SIBA therefore takes its legal responsibilities very seriously.
- 4.3 Any Member who offers, makes or receive a bribe to any person (including third parties) is very likely to be subject to disciplinary procedures and will be subject to expulsion from SIBA.

5. Business consequences for SIBA where bribery takes place

- 5.1 If SIBA or any Members are seen to be involved in bribery (or those who work for with or on behalf SIBA or its Members) there can be serious consequences for SIBA and its remaining Members. For example:

- (a) SIBA or its Members may suffer damage to our reputation (including being subject to unfavourable press, TV and social media scrutiny);
- (b) those who do business with SIBA may cancel or not renew contracts with SIBA;
- (c) those who buy goods and services through SIBA may no longer do so;
- (d) if SIBA or a Member is convicted of bribery it may have to pay over whatever amounts received from any business or contracts entered into pursuant to a bribe;
- (e) SIBA or the relevant Member could be stopped from trying to obtain work with some type of contracts with public organisations

6. Consequences for those who provide goods and services to SIBA

- 6.1 If a company or a person who provides goods and/or services to SIBA and has used bribery to do so SIBA will normally wish to stop trading with them. This will include any Member or third party For our agents and others acting on our behalf if they breach this policy, let alone offer, make or receive a bribe, we will wish to terminate our contracts immediately with them.

7. Obligations and Responsibilities of SIBA Members under this Policy

- 7.1 The Members must comply with the terms of this policy in particular it is not acceptable for Members (or someone on behalf of a Member) to:

- (a) give, promise to give, or offer a payment, gift or hospitality with the expectation or hope that a business advantage will be received, or to reward a business advantage already given;
- (b) give, promise to give, or offer a payment, gift or hospitality to a governmental official, agent or representative to facilitate or expedite a routine procedure;
- (c) accept payment from a third party that you know or suspect is offered with the expectation that it will obtain a business advantage for them;
- (d) accept a gift of hospitality from a third party if you know or suspect that it is offered or provided with an expectation that a business advantage will be provided by us in return;
- (e) threaten or retaliate against another person who has refused to commit a bribery offence or who has raised concerns under this policy;
- (f) engage in any activity that might lead to a breach of this policy.

- 7.2 Each Member must ensure that it has read, understand with this policy and shareholders are made aware of this Policy. All Members must comply with this Policy and ensure all employees, directors, shareholders, officers and managers comply with this Policy.

- 7.3 The prevention, detection and reporting of bribery and other forms of corruption are the responsibility of all Members and all those working for the Members. All Members are required to avoid any activity that might lead to, or suggest, a breach of this policy.

- 7.4 Any Member who breaches this Policy will face disciplinary action, which could result in dismissal for gross misconduct. SIBA and SIBA Commercial reserves the right to terminate their respective contractual relationships with any Member if they breach this policy.

8. Recognising what is and what is not a bribe

- 8.1 Sometimes it is not always easy to recognise a bribe from a legitimate payment needed to be made or is received.
- 8.2 Hospitality, gifts and charitable donations are not normally illegal and are all perfectly acceptable. They are also a normal way of establishing and building contacts and relationships with potential and actual customers as well as suppliers.
- 8.3 This policy does not prohibit normal and appropriate hospitality (given and received) to or from third parties.
- 8.4 We appreciate that the practice of giving business gifts varies depending on the circumstances and what may be normal and acceptable in one circumstance may not be in another. The test to be applied is whether in all the circumstances the gift or hospitality is reasonable and justifiable. The intention behind the gift should always be considered.

PART TWO: ARBITRATION POLICY

- 1.1 The following arbitration clause defines the procedure open to all Members to use to resolve trading disputes between Members and may be offered to Claimants not members of SIBA where the Respondent is a Member.

SIBA Arbitration Clause

- 1.2 All disputes arising under or in connection with this contract shall be referred to arbitration under the following SIBA Arbitration Rules.

- 1.5 The two party-appointed Arbitrators shall be appointed within 14 days of the parties being called upon to do so.
- 1.6 The third member of the Tribunal shall be appointed as soon as practicable and no later than 28 days after the appointment of the two party-appointed Arbitrators. The Tribunal shall be constituted upon the appointment of the third Arbitrator.
- 1.7 Where an Arbitrator has failed to be appointed within the prescribed time limit, then upon application the Board will appoint an Arbitrator to fill the vacancy. At any time prior to an appointment by the Board the party or Arbitrators in default may make such appointment.
- 1.8 The Tribunal may in its sole discretion make such orders and directions as it considers to be necessary for the final determination of the matters in dispute. The Tribunal shall have the widest discretion permitted under the law governing the arbitral procedure when making such orders or directions.
- 1.9 This procedure and any ensuing arbitration shall comply with the Arbitration Act 1996.

APPENDIX THREE: FOOD SAFETY AND QUALITY STANDARD

Edition III

IN ASSOCIATION WITH

Institute of Brewing & Distilling

Introduction

SIBA is the trade association of the independent quality brewing industry, representing those brewers who are proud to be custodians of the finest traditions of British ale and beer.

SIBA members are dedicated to the preservation of the many styles that are indigenous and unique to the British Isles, and of their traditional methods of manufacture, whilst at the same time demonstrating the skill of their craft through creativity, invention and innovation.

SIBA members undertake to:

- a) adopt best practice procedures for the brewing, packaging and supply of their products to their customers;
- b) strive to attain the highest standards of quality, consistency and service.

This Standard is divided into three sections:

1. Production and Packaging Procedures

Contains basic brewing, processing and packaging operating methods, standards and recommendations.

2. Quality Assurance and Fault Diagnosis

Covers the basic checks, minimum standards, and analyses, which need to be carried out to maintain and improve quality, and fault diagnosis charts, particularly with regard to cask beer.

3. Auditing and Development

Incorporates the recommended voluntary auditing process, aimed at assisting the quality process in a practical, educational and realistic manner, particularly suitable to the smaller independent site.

Notes

- Information, records and access to plant will remain confidential and only available by agreement.

- All members will be expected to adhere to all current legislation, recommendations and practices concerning the purchase and use of raw materials, products, and service, excise regulations, contents control, labelling and storage.
Every effort must be made to ensure that products are not subject to any hazard.

NB This Standard contains recommendations for good brewing practice. It is not a comprehensive catalogue of best practice instructions with any legal authority.

Section 1: Production and Packaging Procedures

□ General

- Maintain the necessary records of standards and procedures in a tidy and legible manner. Ensure records are sufficiently accurate to enable product traceability.

- Ensure production water (liquor) is potable and free from contamination. Carry out periodic checks on flavour, aroma and haze.
- Document any liquor treatment and check periodically.
- Purchase malt, other cereals, cereal products, sugars and syrups, hops and hop products, additives and yeasts from reputable suppliers and maintain records of use, stocks and analyses.
- Store products in clean, dry and secure areas to minimise any risk of contamination.
- Document recipes and control parameters such as times and temperatures to ensure consistency.
- Store detergents, sterilants, acids and cleaning materials safely and in accordance with product recommendations

□ Operating Practices

- Ensure thorough implementation of all operating practices in a safe manner to prevent risk to personnel and product.
- Document and adhere to operating quantities, times, temperatures, pressures etc. to ensure maintenance of consistency.
- Ensure all plant and equipment is fit for purpose and kept clean and microbiologically sound when necessary.
- Cleanse all plant and casks, kegs and other containers thoroughly and regularly and rinse free of residual matter.
- Maintain records of cleaning.

- Production Management
 - Document all brewing, processing and packaging procedures and communicate to all relevant personnel to ensure all operations are carried out to required professional standards.
 - Identify each batch/gyle to ensure traceability throughout the supply chain.
 - Breweries in the UK are required, by law, to assure the safety of co-products (such as brewers grains, trub, surplus yeast and surplus beer) that are fed to animals to be used in the human feed chain. They must comply with the requirements of feed legislation and demonstrate adequate controls throughout the supply chain from the selection of raw materials to the marketing of co-products as feed materials. It is advised that all Breweries are Members of a Feed Assurance Scheme to show due diligence.

Environmental policy

- WE WANT TO manage the impacts our business has on the environment

OUR ROUTES TO ACHIEVING THIS

- developing and maintaining an understanding of our environmental impacts
- focusing our resources on managing and improving the major impacts
- publishing an environmental policy
- enabling our members to support the policy
- reporting progress on our environmental policy to internal and external stakeholders
- incorporating the environmental policy into our decision making and planning processes
- demonstrating leadership and influencing the behaviour of those whom our business touches

OUR MAJOR IMPACTS ARE

- the nature and quantity of waste created by the way we design our products and services, our manufacturing operations, our buildings, our processes and by the goods and services we specify from our suppliers
- the means by which we dispose of the waste we are responsible for creating
- the nature and quantity of energy we use moving raw materials, finished goods and people around and running our various facilities

OUR OBJECTIVES ARE TO CONTINUALLY

- reduce the amount of waste we create
- improve the environmental impact of our waste disposal
- optimise our energy efficiency
- optimise the proportion of our energy that comes from sustainable sources

SOME GUIDING PRINCIPLES

- be practical and pragmatic; we cannot ever do everything and we cannot do it all at once, but we can continually improve
- measure our performance
- take a consistent approach worldwide

- always be fully compliant with legal requirements
- take into consideration current standards and emerging best practice
- include the environment in our partner dialogues

Section 2: Quality Assurance and Fault Diagnosis

1. General

- Maintain a basic system in place to ensure that all the relevant and required checks can be and are made and are recorded.
- Respond to incidents and any risk areas that are identified. A simple HACCP system is appropriate.
- Have in place a documented product recall procedure to ensure that reaction is properly managed.

2. Routine checks

- Check all products for flavour and aroma and ensure they are true to type and free from defects before despatch.
- Check raw materials physically on receipt from supplier to ensure correctness of type, freedom from defects/contamination and compliance with food standard safety.
- Verify shelf life prediction by forcing samples and taking cask samplings to ensure that products remain true to type throughout the stated shelf life period.
- Carry out routine tests on finings to ensure effective operation on cask-conditioned beers and sufficient compactness of settleable solids. Adjust yeast counts when appropriate.
- Check cask beers for bacterial and wild yeast infection levels. Ensure non-despatch if higher than specification.
- Ensure all ABVs are as stated on pump clips, invoices or other documentary material, are above 1.2%, and are within 0.1% and no greater than 0.2% more than once in any six months. Check by distillation.
- Eliminate contamination by heavy metals and mycotoxins by using ingredient specifications to suppliers which ensure that all supplies are free of such materials.
- Check OG, PG, Colour, Bitterness and pH as often as possible to ensure consistency and conformity to specification
- Monitor infection levels in pitching yeasts. Ensure implementation of remedial action (washing or changing) if bacteria and wild yeast levels high.

3. Fault Diagnosis

- A formal procedure for diagnosing faults in fermentation and cask should be in place and staff trained appropriately.

Section 3: Auditing and Development

1. General

- The audit will be voluntary and carried out at the brewer's expense by experienced accredited auditors who have a knowledge of the realistic capabilities of the independent local brewer. (The audit is mandatory for brewers participating in Beerflex.)
- The audit is aimed at helping the brewer to maintain, develop and improve quality and consistency and overcome problem areas in a positive and helpful manner.
- All material, discussion notes and information will remain confidential to the brewer and the auditor. No results will be disclosed without agreement.

2. The Audit Process

This procedure is designed to facilitate self-testing prior to an official audit.

- A mutually acceptable date and time will be arranged. The audit will normally take about half a day. The auditor will discuss his plan and what can and cannot be done that day. Time will be allocated for discussion and highlighting of any issues at completion. A written report will be submitted to the brewer.
- The auditor will make an initial accompanied tour of the site to gain an impression of the cleanliness, tidiness and any external and internal environmental factors including drainage and effluent disposal. The layout of the plant and equipment following the brewing and packaging process will be checked.
- A check will be made on the safety and security of material and product storage areas ensuring no possible contamination or deterioration issues.
- General personnel hygiene compliance checks will be made covering non-smoking, washing facilities, food consumption, protective clothing, and presence of animals.
- The cleaning procedures for the plant and equipment including pipework/hosepipes will be checked. Documented cleaning cycles that include times, temperatures, frequency and detergent/sterilant strengths and actual cleaning records will be followed.

- A check will be made to ensure that there are adequate pest/vermin controls in place.
- Records of waste disposal and sale of brewers' grains for animal feed may be checked for safety and traceability and compliance with assurance control requirements.

3. Product Control.

- i. The documented product specifications and recipes will be in place and a basic system checked to ensure that they are in available, maintained and up-dated. Recipes and sensitive data do not need to be individually inspected, only that there is a competent system of traceability and data capture.
- ii. The agreed times, temperatures, pressures, strengths and quantities will checked and when possible sampled on the plant. A system will need to be in place to ensure that changes are properly communicated and noted.
- iii. Records of routine analyses of products will be reviewed when possible to ensure consistency and that any remedial action has been taken.
- iv. Records of microbiological control such as yeast counts, infection checks and forcing samples for shelf life tests will be assessed.
- v. Additives and finings additions system will be noted and finings testing checked.
- vi. Where practical the plant and equipment will be physically examined for effectiveness of cleaning.
- vii. The labelling of containers will be examined to ensure legality and correctness.
- viii. When invited the auditor will expect to taste the brewer's product for general comment and adherence to the stated objectives.
- ix. Plant and laboratory equipment will be assessed for fitness for purpose – of appropriate calibration and required accuracy.
- x. Any processing such as pasteurisation or sterile filling for packaging to bottles or kegs or other containers will be checked through.
- xi Excise Notice 226: - Compliance with the requirements of Excise Notice 226 covering the production, storage and accounting for duty on beer will be checked.

For such purposes, any amount retained by SIBA CS LTD in respect of the Deferral Right shall be taken into account.

10.7 Notwithstanding the provisions of clause 11.5, the Supplier agrees and covenants to pay to SIBA CS LTD any amount in respect of the Supplier’s Proportion within 5 Business Days of its written demand.

10.8 In the event that SIBA CS LTD has already exercised its Deferral Right in respect of a Relevant Invoice, the amount of the Deferred Proportion retained by SIBA CS LTD in respect of that Relevant Invoice shall be set off so as to reduce or extinguish the Supplier’s liability in respect of any Supplier’s Proportion.

12.2 The corresponding obligations of the other party or parties will be suspended to the same extent as those of the party first affected by the Force Majeure Event.

12.3 Any party that is subject to a Force Majeure Event shall not be in breach of this agreement provided that:

(b) If any invalid, unenforceable or illegal provision of the Contract would be valid, enforceable and legal if some part of it were deleted, the provision shall apply with the minimum modification necessary to make it legal, valid and enforceable.

15.4 Waiver. A waiver of any right or remedy under the Contract is only effective if given in writing and shall not be deemed a waiver of any subsequent breach or default.
